Hatchmen	I think it's very important to trained works so that we can improve our skills and do more things at work and can help others if needed to. So they are improve their skills as well.
Stevedoring qualifications	Should the guidance material refer to the qualifications (Cert II, Cert III and Cert IV in Stevedoring) that have been developed for the stevedoring industry? I think it's very important to trained works so that we can improve our skills and do more things at work and can help others if needed to. So they are improve their skills as well.
Safety Induction skill-set	Should the newly developed stevedoring 'safety skill-set' be used to underpin safety inductions? Yes it's important to have a safety induction so that the new starters can work safe and they know all about safely in the workforce.
