| Hatchmen | It is a safety issue, as hatch men can observe all working of cargo from an excellent, safe observation point and prevent any accident happening, as every worker has the right to return home safely. |
| Stevedoring qualifications | Should the guidance material refer to the qualifications that have been developed for stevedores? Yes all workers should be trained up to highest and safest standards the industry has to offer. |
| Safety Induction skill-set | Should the newly developed stevedoring safety skill-set be used to underpin safety inductions? Yes a safe work place is a good workplace , and inductions for all employees should be mandatory |
